REASONS

For Hiring A Traumatic
Brain Injury Attorney

If you or a loved one have sustained traumatic brain injuries in an accident due to the negligence of others, you need a lawyer that will vigilantly manage all aspects of your case. Aside from death, brain damage is the most serious injury one can incur as a result of an accident – whether from a car crash, violent blow to the head, or slip and fall. An experienced traumatic brain injury attorney will help you recover full compensation. That's the easy part. The hard part is finding the right lawyer to handle your case, especially as you navigate this difficult time.

Here are some top reasons to hire a traumatic brain injury attorney.

Protection of Your Best Interests

Victims who have suffered brain damage can experience memory lapses and poor concentration – all of which can prevent full mental and emotional functioning. Trusted attorneys are critical, as they will act in your best interest at all times. And because TBI cases pose complicated legal and medical issues, healing is unpredictable. The effects are more difficult to diagnose and predict; thus, it takes a team of experts to prove cases like these.

Handling Expenses

It's not cheap to hire legal, medical, scientific and financial experts to establish and prove someone else was at fault for your TBI. Most clients simply can't afford the high out-of-pocket price tag that comes with such an endeavor, nor do they know who to turn to and how to coordinate everything. Being represented by a traumatic brain injury attorney will advance the costs of pursuing the case, as well as coordinating all experts, so you can concentrate on recovering instead of how you'll pay those bills.

Knowledge and Professional Affiliations

By the same token, an experienced attorney will have strong networks in place to gather the necessary supporting witnesses, doctors and other experts that can prove critical to a successful outcome. They will also regularly attend educational seminars on brain injury to stay apprised of industry findings. They'll also have vast professional affiliations as members of trial lawyer organizations committed to litigating TBI cases, for example.

Insurance Battles

It's no secret that the insurance companies are only out for themselves. Because insurance adjusters are working in the best interests of their company, you need someone on your side working for you. Insurance companies will try to get you to accept their payout at every turn, which is why you need to be ever-vigilant about protecting yourself and your own best interests. Your attorney works for you and to that end, will do everything possible to make sure you come out on top.
